The entire Czech population is being trained in fire fighting, first-aid activities, and other measures to be taken in the event of emergency. This sort of training is given by the Czech Red Cross Organization. Training of this type is compulsory. Persons trained are organized into operational units, the leaders of which hold ranks similar to those used in the Armed Forces, such as "Desatnik" (corporal) or "Cetar" (platoon leader), etc. Even the nuns of a Red Cross home at Melnik (0 51/F 71) are said to have been trained as disaster crews and to have been given tanks in accordance with the assignments given to them. Noteworthy passive air defense measures, such as the construction of air raid shelters, have not been observed in the country.
